The Vatican Museums

A self-contained sovereign state in the middle of Rome, the Vatican is ruled by the Roman Catholic Church with the Pope as its leader. Enter through the great square, designed by Bernini, and first visit St. Peter's Basilica. From the first basilica constructed over St. Peter's tomb in AD 324, the structure has expanded with additions by Renaissance and Baroque artists and architects (Michelangelo designed the huge dome), and it was completed in 1626. It endures as Catholicism's most holy shrine, and it is filled with art and sculpture. The Vatican Museums house most of the treasures, the Raphael Rooms display incredible frescoes by Michelangelo's contemporary, and the Sistine Chapel with its recently restored ceiling is a site not to be missed.

Siena Excursion

Nestled in the Tuscan hills south of traditional rival Florence, Siena, Italy's prettiest medieval town, is a delight to behold. Walk through narrow streets shadowed by the massive Cathedral as you make your way to the center of town. Suddenly, you're on Piazza del Campo, Siena's large open square and site of one of Italy's most exciting annual events, the Palio, a bareback horse race between riders from the town's 12 Contrada (precincts). Held twice each year (once in July and once in August), it features parades, flag tossing contests and riders and onlookers in medieval garb, plus determined horses. Relax by the Campo's fountain, explore the maze of medieval alleys, hike up the hill for a peek inside the beautifully marbled Duomo or shop in one of the many intriguing storefronts.

Walking Tour in Florence

Just 180 miles north of Rome, Florence is one of the great cities of the world, renowned as the center of the Renaissance and filled with more treasures than one could view in a lifetime. Everywhere you turn in this incomparable town, you look upon exquisite masterpieces of art and architecture, which recall the fabled days of Medici rule and patronage in Renaissance Italy. The Duomo (principal church), Baptistry, Pitti Palace, Uffizi and Ponte Vecchio are a few of many examples. Today, in addition to being a magnet for art lovers, Florence is an important educational center, both for Italy and the world. Students of all nationalities flock to soak up history, art, music and political studies.

Galleria dell'Accademia

Visit the Galleria dell'Accademia, home to Michaelangelo's David and a priceless collection of sculptures, paintings, tapestries, and musical instruments.
